Civil Rights Bill To Face House Vote

Passage Expected; Senate May Defeat Jury Trial Change

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—Rep. Keating (R-NY) predicted today the Senate will follow the House lead in rejecting jury trial amendments to President Eisenhower's civil rights bill. It is scheduled for House passage tomorrow.

Keating has had the principal Republican role in shaping the bill and, along with Rep. Celler (D-NY) handling it during six days of House debate.

The defeat, Friday, 199-167, of the attempt by House Southerners to write into the measure a larger role for local juries left no doubt that the House will pass the bill tomorrow without substantial changes. The House has agreed to close debate not later than 6 p.m.

Has Clouded Future

The jury trial amendment concededly was the one for which the Southerners had the best chance of attracting support outside their area.

However, the bill has a clouded future in the Senate, which filibustering Southerners in the past have made a graveyard for such legislation.

Its prospects brightened somewhat yesterday with news that Vice President Nixon, president of the Senate, and Republican Leader Knowland of California were teaming up in an attempt to rush the bill onto the Senate calendar without the usual preliminary of routing it to the Judiciary Committee.

Such procedure, if successful, would get the bill past one pitfall, but would not eliminate an eventual filibuster.

Sen. Eastland (D-Miss.), a vigorous foe of civil rights legislation, is chairman of the Judiciary Committee. It voted to attach a jury trial amendment but has otherwise taken little action.

Will Strike Out Provision

Keating said in an interview, "Even if the Senate gets a bill with the jury trial feature, I think it will vote to strike out such a provision."

And Keating, while he would not flatly predict that the Senate would pass a civil rights bill, said he thinks, "the prospects are very good — the best in years."

While Southerners in the House have not stopped fighting, from all indications tomorrow's session will be mainly a mopping-up operation by the victorious coalition of Northern and Western Democrats and Republicans.

The civil rights bill provides for the attorney general to go to federal court for injunctions to ward off or undo violations of civil rights. Persons defying such injunctions would be subject to punishment for contempt of court.

True Love Is Victor

REGGIO CALABRIA, Italy, June 16 (AP)—True love's rocky road was smoothed today and a dashing mayor won permission to wed the school teacher he spirited away to the hills last week.

The teacher, dark-eyed Francesco Zavittieri, 28, went willingly.

Both she and Pietro Nucera, 40, loverlorn mayor of nearby Roghudi, told police of this city they planned the breakaway to melt her family's resistance to their marriage.

First Nucera and several companions waylaid Miss Zavittieri. Someone fired a pistol. The teacher and the mayor ran into the hills.

Early today, police received an anonymous note saying they could find the teacher in a cave on the Aspromonte — Harsh Mountain — They did.

Later, the missing mayor turned up at the Reggio police station.

The teacher's family, impressed by the escapade, gave their approval. The wedding will be held soon.

Kishi Sets Out On Visit To U.S.

Intends To Tell Ike Just What Japanese People Want

TOKYO, June 16 (AP)—Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi left tonight for a two-week visit in the United States. He carried Japanese hopes for a more important role in Asia. Kishi told an airport crowd of 3,000 flag-waving members of this party he intends to tell President Eisenhower in conferences later this week "what is really wanted by the Japanese people."

The sendoff crowd, brought to the airport in buses chartered by Kishi's Liberal Democratic party, shouted a triple "banzai"—long live—as the smiling, waving Premier boarded a Japan Air Lines plane for the flight to San Francisco.

Throng Waves Flags

The throng waved a cloud of paper Japanese flags, several score American flags and banners with slogans such as:

"Banzai Japan-American friendship."

"Kishi, do your best."

"Return Okinawa and the Bonin Islands."

"Banzai great Japan."

There was no mention of the celebrated Girard case, threatening U. S.-Japan friendship.

"My present visit is by no means a courtesy visit," the 60-year-old Prime Minister said in his prepared departure statement. "The purpose of my visit is to hold a frank exchange of views with President Eisenhower and other high officials of the United States government on matters of common interest and concern to both countries and to tell them candidly what is really wanted by the Japanese people."

He expressed hope his visit will "prepare the way for a new era of friendly relations between Japan and the United States."

Mentioning "cooperation with free nations" as "the cornerstone of our foreign policy," Kishi said it is "imperative for us to further strengthen our bonds of friendship and understanding with the United States and firmly establish our relations on a basis of mutual trust and confidence."

Asks For Approval

Kishi intends to ask American approval of a bigger Japanese economic role in non-Communist Asia and a more equal voice in American decisions affecting Japan.

After a stopover in Honolulu, Kishi and his party of 15 Japanese officials and 12 newsmen, are due in San Francisco at 11:40 a.m. tomorrow, President Eisenhower's plane, the Columbine, will pick up Kishi there Tuesday night for the trip to Washington.

Kishi's schedule calls for him to spend four days in Washington. He is to leave the capital Saturday for New York for three days, during which he will see the Yankees play baseball and visit the United Nations. Before returning home July 1, he will also visit Los Angeles and Honolulu.

Opium War Kills 18 Iran Tribesmen

TEHRAN, Iran, June 16 (AP)—Eighteen tribesmen have been killed and 45 wounded in an opium war near Kermanshah, southwest of Tehran, according to reports reaching the Iranian capital today.

The 11-hour shooting affray began, the reports said, when members of the Kakavand tribe fell out with their leaders on the question of whether to sell their illegally grown opium in Iran or smuggle it across the border into Pakistan.

Bonn Pressured To Ease China Trade Curbs

FRANKFURT, Germany, June 16 (AP)—West German industry is putting pressure on the Bonn government to join the parade of nations easing curbs on trade with Red China.

There's money in commerce with the Communist sphere and West German exporters and importers would like to broaden a field in which they've done right well over the last three years.

Britain dropped many of the restrictions of the 15-nation China trade embargo May 30. Norway and the Benelux countries — Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg — have since followed suit.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government — mindful of good relations with the United States and American sentiment against trade with the Chinese regime which the United Nations called the aggressor in the Korean War — up to now has discouraged German moves seeking a revision. But the heat is on.

Fritz Berg, president of the powerful Federation of German Industries, spoke up last week in favor of relaxing the embargo. A federation affiliate, called the Eastern Committee of the German Economy, is sending a delegation to Red China next fall to prepare an agreement to regulate trade between the two countries.

West Germany's trade with Red China, limited by the embargo to nonstrategic materials, rose to 90 billion dollars and surpassed that of Britain for the first time last year. Exporters fear the trend may reverse unless Adenauer's regime hurries to fall in line.

Flaming Distress Signal Brings Aid To Man Adrift

MONTREY, Calif., June 16 (AP)—A flaming distress signal to a U.S. destroyer—a shirt soaked in gasoline and set afire—brought rescue today of a salmon fisherman who had drifted for five days on the Pacific Ocean in his 36-foot boat.

Jack Coates, 32, had lived for five days on raw fish, water wrung from a shirt after it was soaked by a heavy fog, a loaf of mouldy bread and five vitamin pills.

He had drifted 200 miles down the California coast when a Coast Guard boat took him in tow at 4 a.m. today, 80 miles southwest of San Francisco's Golden Gate.

"Am I glad to see you," Coates exclaimed as his rescuers came alongside.

The battery of Coates' little craft, Gojoc, went dead last Tuesday off Arena Cove, more than 100 miles north of the Golden Gate. His radio wasn't working. Despite an intensive Coast Guard search, the Gojoc wasn't seen again until last midnight. Then sailors aboard the U.S. destroyer George Anderson saw a flame in the darkness. Seeing the shadowy form of the warship, Coates grabbed his shirt, soaked it in gasoline and set it afire.

When the destroyer came closer, Coates shouted that he didn't want to be taken off and asked that the Coast Guard station in Monterey be notified. The point of rescue was 22 miles west of Point Pinos.

The boat was towed by the Coast Guard to Monterey where Coates was met by his wife and taken by car back to his home in Mendocino County.

Angry Mobs Roam Through Haitian Streets

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, June 16 (AP)—Angry mobs—looting, burning and stoning in protest against ouster of Provisional President Daniel Fignole—turned this capital into a fiery jungle last night and early today.

Police and troops retaliated with deadly gunfire, ranging in the wild night through blacked-out Port au Prince slums where all street lights were broken.

They sprayed raging and wailing Fignole partisans with sub-machine gun fire, killing 50 to 150 or perhaps more in the effort to restore order.

Brig. Gen. Antonio Kebreau, head of the three-man military junta which is trying to rule this country as its sixth provisional regime in six months, told a news conference at noon his army is in control of the situation throughout the nation and would smash all disorders.

The outbreak of violence was touched off by persistent rumors that Fignole, idol of the Port au Prince crowds, had been executed. The crowds either had not heard, or did not believe, the news that Fignole actually was in New York. He reached there yesterday, an exile.

It was Kebreau who called Port au Prince a jungle. He told reporters the description occurred to him because of the weird wallings and cries of Fignole supporters huddled in ramshackle huts in the slums near the port area in total darkness. Sub-machine guns fired at the tops of the houses to put an end to stonings of police vans and to hamper Fignole partisans rushing out to attack army and police patrols.

Kebreau said there is no question of Fignole being permitted to return to Haiti. Fignole's partisans, informed by all radio stations here of his arrival in New York in morning broadcasts, remained bitter.

Police rounded up dozens of Fignole leaders today and jammed them into the overcrowded national penitentiary and temporary jails.

The Fignole mobs set fire to eight buildings before they were stopped. Among them were the Roman Catholic sisters School of Perpetual Secours, a gasoline station and the unfurnished slaughterhouse. The crowds stoned the Oloffson Hotel near the heart of Port au Prince. A handful of North American tourists was staying there but no one was injured.

Kebreau said the Senate Commerce Committee he heads intends to explore this question with Secretary of State Dulles, as well as the possibility of admission of American newsmen to China.

The committee will begin a broad-scale investigation next Thursday of American trade policies with all sections of the world. Magnuson indicated it will focus first on Asia and the present embargo against any U.S. trade with the Peiping regime.

"I know the administration's policy is against such trade," Magnuson said. "But we have got to be realistic. The rest of the world is going to trade with China. We can't keep 400 million people behind an economic bamboo curtain forever just because we don't like their government."

Magnuson said both Northwest Airlines and Pan American Airways have certificates permitting them to fly to China. But he said they cannot be used under present U.S. restrictions against travel to that country.

"We certainly would not be building up China's war potential by permitting the airlines to fly passengers and mail there," Magnuson said. "We ought to loosen up some of the restrictions so Americans could travel there."

"We also ought to consider the possibility of an exchange by which American newsmen could be stationed in China on a regular basis."

Rebels, Troops Clash

ALGIERS, June 16 (AP)—About 500 Algerian rebels have been killed in clashes with French troops since Thursday, French headquarters announced today.

The biggest action took place near Cheria in eastern Algeria, where the French said they slew 205 rebels.

British security agents were presented as believing that Crabb, who vanished during a mysterious diving operation near the Soviet cruiser Ordzhonikidze in Portsmouth Harbor April 29, 1956, is still alive and in Russian hands.

Three Russian submarines were reported in the channel three days before the body was washed up," the Reynolds News noted.

These submarines, escorted by a minesweeper, have since entered the Mediterranean. They are en route to Egypt.

After Crabb vanished, the Kremlin complained a frogman had been seen near the Ordzhonikidze, which had carried Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist boss Nikita Khrushchev on a visit to Britain.

The government gave no explanation of Crabb's disappearance. It merely apologized to Russia and said the frogman had been engaged in an unauthorized operation.

Months later a West German newspaper had printed a story, attributed to a Soviet army officer, that Crabb had in fact been seized by the Russians at Portsmouth and was a prisoner in a Moscow jail.

Nation's Finances To Face Comprehensive Probe By Senate Monetary Group

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) said today the Finance Committee would launch Tuesday the most comprehensive probe of the nation's financial condition in nearly half a century.

There has been nothing like it, he said, since the Aldrich investigation in 1908.

That investigation was conducted by a monetary commission headed by Sen. Nelson Aldrich (R-R.I.). It ran four years and was credited with laying the groundwork for legislative reforms.

Byrd made the comparison in a television interview — "Dateline Washington" on WDSU, New Orleans.

The committee begins the probe Tuesday with Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey in the witness chair, a seat he is expected to occupy for several days.

Several Democrats on the committee expect to turn the investigation into an attack on what they call the Eisenhower administration's tight money policies.

Byrd said, however, that he considered inflation was the No. 1 problem disturbing the committee.

The dollar has lost over half of its purchasing power since 1940, he said, adding that one of the most discouraging points was that inflation had resumed in the past year with a further 2-cent reduction in the dollar's value.

However, the committee chairman said he also was concerned about the so-called tight money and increase in interest rates, which he said "has been very serious."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), meanwhile, told newsmen that "the 'hard money' issue has become the No. 1 domestic question before our people."

Johnson said interest on the national debt had increased by $1,200,000,000 a year under the Eisenhower administration, and that if all of the debt were refinanced on the same terms, the charges would be four billions higher. This is "a heavy penalty" on the taxpayers, he remarked.

Washington, June 16 (AP)—Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash.) proposed today that American air carriers be permitted to fly passengers and mail to Communist China. He suggested this as a possible preliminary step toward relaxing trade barriers.

Magnuson said the Senate Commerce Committee he heads intends to explore this question with Secretary of State Dulles, as well as the possibility of admission of American newsmen to China.

The committee will begin a broad-scale investigation next Thursday of American trade policies with all sections of the world. Magnuson indicated it will focus first on Asia and the present embargo against any U.S. trade with the Peiping regime.

Baltimore Heat Hits 99; Three Persons Drown

BALTIMORE, June 16 (AP)—At least three persons drowned today as Baltimoreans headed for the water in an attempt to escape temperatures which soared to 99 degrees.

Temperatures dropped a few hours later when a thunderstorm hit the area, causing high water and lightning fires at scattered points.

Two short-lived fires were started by the thunderstorm, one in a Pikesville home and the other in a patch of woods west of the city.

In suburban Towson, Radio Station WTOW was off the air for 1½ hours when lightning struck its transmitter off Hart Road. It went off the air at 5:15 p.m. and resumed broadcasting at 6:45.

France Turns To Pressing Algeria Muddle

PARIS, June 16 (AP)—France's new premier, Maurice Bourgès-Maunoury, turns this week to the nation's most pressing problem—the costly and bloody rebellion in Algeria.

The 42-year-old middle-roader came to power three days ago on a double pledge of a stepped-up military campaign against the rebels and political and administrative reforms to regain, if possible, the loyalty of Algeria's predominantly Arab population.

For both these aims the new Premier first needs the same sweeping special powers for Algeria which the preceding government received from Parliament.

These were contained in a bill which authorized Premier Guy Mollet and Algerian Affairs Minister Robert Lacoste to rule the North African area by decree.

The bill expires a week from today. Hence, despite the grave financial situation confronting France, Bourgès-Maunoury's first concern must be to obtain renewal. He plans to ask Parliament for these powers when the deputies reconvene Tuesday.

The special powers bill will otherwise expire because Parliament originally restricted it to the Mollet-Lacoste administration. The idea of this 10-day period was to give a new Cabinet time to ask the Assembly for the same sort of authority.

There is no doubt that the Assembly will give these powers to Bourgès-Maunoury. He was, after all, Mollet's defense minister and the chief architect of French military policy in Algeria. But the Premier's request gives him an opportunity to spell out his own Algerian policies, and gives Parliament a chance to discuss them.

French Ship Navigates Canal

SUEZ, Egypt, June 16 (AP)—The 4,665-ton French freighter Picardie steamed north through the Suez Canal today, the first French-flag ship to navigate the waterway since the invasion of Egypt last fall.

The ship's agents said the toll of $4,752 was paid in free sterling without protest. The Picardie, loaded with iron ore, was sailing from Goa, Portuguese India, to Rotterdam. She transited the canal in a 23-ship convoy.

Named Chief

HAGERSTOWN, Md., June 16 (AP)—Blair Overton, former Baltimore police lieutenant, takes over as Hagerstown's police chief tomorrow.

He said no amount of reasoning would dissuade her from having him call patrolman Charles Young to the station.

But at that moment, two other patrolmen called in to report the safe cracking at a garage on Main street where $79 was taken.

Patrolman Anthony Deta was first out of the car and into the station but he walked into a shotgun leveled at him. Miss Masters demanded that the astonished policeman drop his holster.

Knoll said, "Go ahead Tony, drop your holster," and he did.

Meanwhile, patrolman Clarence Friedland saw what was going on from the porch. After trying unsuccessfully to get in the back way, he rushed in the front door.

While the woman turned to cope with the new invasion, Knoll lunged at her and finally grabbed the gun. It contained three shells.

Killed In Fall

TEHRAN, Iran, June 16 (AP)—Iranian police said a U.S. Army major died in the American Hospital here today after a fall from a hotel balcony. Police had no identification of the officer and the U.S. Embassy refused to name him until Tuesday, presumably to allow time to notify next of kin.

Disarmament Proposal Is Said 'Stupid'

Labor Party Hits Political Agreement On Germany Plan

NEWCASTLE, England, June 16 (AP)—Britain's Labor party leader called "stupid, dangerous and absurd" tonight any idea that agreement on disarmament should be held up until German reunification is achieved.

Since Prime Minister Harold Macmillan insisted upon exactly such an idea yesterday in a letter to Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin, it was apparent that a broad split over disarmament has now developed between the two great parties in this country.

Macmillan told Bulganin that unless the Russians agree to reunification of Germany there is "little prospect of a satisfactory settlement of the other major issues outstanding between East and West."

Favors Reunification

Without mentioning Macmillan by name, Labor party leader Hugh Gaitskell said in a speech at a political rally here: "I am in favor of German reunification with genuinely free elections. I think we ought to be putting forward plans for this and for the greater freedom of the Eastern satellite states, too."

"But, I think it is quite wrong to hold up all-round disarmament until we get a political settlement of this kind."

"Those who talk like this are really hinting that we might still go to war to bring about frontier changes, that disarmament would prevent us from going to war and that therefore we should reject a disarmament agreement until we have forced the Russians to agree to the changes we want."

"This is a stupid, dangerous and absurd attitude."

Gaitskell, who is in line to become prime minister should Labor win control, said that in the first place it would be utterly wrong to go to war for German reunification.

Pledged Ourselves

"We have pledged ourselves in the United Nations Charter only to fight in self-defense, or in a defense of our allies if they are attacked. Fighting in any other condition would violate the Charter."

"Second, there is no reason whatever to suppose that the Russians will be more likely to agree to German reunification if we make this a condition of rearmament."

Young Woman Threatens Cops

NEWTON, N.J., June 16 (AP)—Miss Vivian Masters, 20, barged into the police station here today and demanded at shotgun point that the desk officer get the patrolman who had once arrested her for reckless driving.

And at the same instant across the town, an unknown bandit was leaping through a window and successfully breaking a safe. The bandit who fled in the night was to prove Miss Masters undoing, police said.

William Knoll, the only man on duty in the station in the early morning hours, looked up from his desk and into the muzzle of a 12-gauge shotgun.

He said no amount of reasoning would dissuade her from having him call patrolman Charles Young to the station.

But at that moment, two other patrolmen called in to report the safe cracking at a garage on Main street where $79 was taken.

Patrolman Anthony Deta was first out of the car and into the station but he walked into a shotgun leveled at him. Miss Masters demanded that the astonished policeman drop his holster.

Tornado Lashes Northern Italy, 7 Killed, 60 Hurt

MILAN, Italy, June 16 (AP)—A north Italian weather picture. Tornado lashed across northern Italy's flooded farmlands today and left a trail of death, injury and destruction in three villages. At least seven persons were reported killed. Sixty were injured. An entire family — father, mother and three sons — were reported killed in the collapse of their home at the village of Passo Valle Scura, first to be hit.

The broken bodies of a 2-year-old girl and an 8-year-old boy were dug from the ruins of another cottage there.

The tornado whipped around the outskirts of the hamlet, eyewitnesses said.

Ten minutes later it whirled through the neighboring village of Robecco Pavese.

A warning of its approach was spread as nearly 200 of the village's 800 inhabitants were attending late mass in the village church.

Some rushed home. Others took shelter in the cellars of the church.

The church bell tower crashed through the roof and the walls caved in, trapping 16 persons. They were rescued.

The town hall was blown down. So was the schoolhouse. In all, more than half the hamlet's buildings were ruined.

One man was plucked from his feet and hurled 250 yards through the air. He was picked up alive but was not expected to live.

As the tornado lost strength, it roared on through the village of Bressana Bottarone, causing minor damage.

A violent hailstorm preceded the tornado. Residents said hailstones weighing up to half a pound smashed through shuttered windows and stripped trees of foliage.

Rescue teams were rushed to the area. Roads were blocked by police to prevent sightseers from hampering operations.

St. Louis Area Floods Slowly Are Receding

ST. LOUIS, June 16 (AP)—Floods which took at least 18 lives following cloudbursts in the St. Louis area receded slowly today under clear skies.

Many of the 3,500 residents of low-lying neighborhoods who fled before the accumulations from record rains Friday night and Saturday, returned to their mud-ringed homes.

But slow-draining flood lakes in some sections of the hard-hit, heavily-populated region kept hundreds of refugees biding their time, and continued to block traffic on U.S. Highways 66, 40 and 50, major traffic arteries.

The rain torrents enveloped an area with a radius of more than 50 miles from St. Louis, and embracing the nation's ninth largest metropolitan population of some 1,680,000 in northeast Missouri and southwestern Illinois.

Seven members of a single farm family died near Beaufort, Mo., 40 miles southwest of St. Louis Saturday when their car was caught and tumbled in a virtual wall of water near a small creek.

The unofficial record rainfall of the deluge was 13.75 inches at Belleville, Ill., a city of 35,000, just southeast of St. Louis across the Mississippi river. Approximately 20 per cent of Belleville was swamped.

Many unofficial measurements of 10 inches were reported in the Illinois area. St. Louis received 8.72 inches of rain in 13½ hours, the official record for such a short period.

The Mississippi River, which rose 5.6 feet overnight during the rain, was not a flood factor except as its relatively high stage hindered drainage of flood-gorged tributaries in the area.

Most of the Illinois communities, including East St. Louis, where 1,000 of some 90,000 residents were evacuated from their homes, were drying out today. At Belleville, the flood had been carried off by Richland Creek, now back in its banks.

However, two federal trunk highways were still closed by water this morning in Illinois—U.S. 50 near the East St. Louis outskirts and east of O'Fallon, and U.S. 40 near Troy.

U.S. 66 remained blocked by flood waters near the Meramec River southwest of St. Louis. Traffic flowed in circuitous routes around these bottlenecks.

Several state routes in both Illinois and Missouri remained impassable.

Teen-Age Youths Held In Shooting

TOWSON, Md., June 16 (AP)—Two teen-age boys were being held today on charges of robbing an Edgemere tavern Thursday night and shooting the bar's two owners.

Willie Lee Farmer, 17, and Benjamin Robinson, 16, were picked up within 24 hours of the crime.

Pope Receives U. S. Army Field Band

VATICAN CITY, June 16 (AP)—Pope Pius XII today received members of the U.S. Army field band, now on a good-will tour of 44 European cities.

The band has played to 130,000 on its current tour and been heard by millions more on radio and television. Its concert last night in Rome's ancient open-air Basilica Maxentius marked the midway point of the tour, which ends July 16.

Bicycles Must Get Licenses In Hagerstown

HAGERSTOWN, Md., June 16 (AP)—After Oct. 1, Hagerstown's 4,000 bicycles must be licensed and registered with the police department. The new tags will cost a quarter.

The riders must observe a 10 m.p.h. limit on the city's streets and 6 m.p.h. at intersections.

The new ordinance was passed to help police combat young bicycle-riding hooligans and to help them identify stolen bikes.

Mundy Named Tax Chairman

BALTIMORE, June 16 (AP)—Cornelius P. Mundy has been named chairman of the Maryland State Tax Commission, the post he held until his appointment to the Baltimore Supreme Bench in 1955.

The 56-year-old attorney was appointed by Gov. McKeldin to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Joseph Allen.

Like Mundy, Allen left the commission to accept appointment to the Baltimore bench.

Mundy's availability for appointment to his old post resulted from his defeat in last year's primary. When he came up for nomination to a full 15-year term, he was passed up by Democrats, as well as his fellow Republicans.

Allen is among judges who were named to the bench under interim appointment and must stand for election next year.

McKeldin said he was "very gratified that Judge Mundy has agreed to serve again as chairman of the tax commission, a position he filled, as he has others, with honor, dignity and with dedication to the public interest."

The appointment is for a six-year term dating back to last May 6.

Noted Song Writer Dies

CULVER CITY, Calif., June 16 (AP)—Chris M. Schonberg, 66, noted songwriter and pianist, died in his home today of a coronary thrombosis.

He was a former accompanist to such entertainers as Nora Bayes, Eleanor Powell, George Whiting and Sadie Burt.

His musical compositions include "Darling," "Neath a Blanket of Stars," "It Was on a Night Like This," "Love is Just a Little Flower," "My Little Home," and "Croon a Little Lullaby."

Hopkins To Go To London For Navigation Congress

BALTIMORE, June 16 (AP)—D. Luke Hopkins, vice-chairman of the Maryland Port Authority, will go to London next month to serve as a delegate to the Permanent International Association of Navigation Congresses.

Hopkins, chairman of the finance committee of the Fidelity-Baltimore National Bank, will be one of a 35-man delegation from the United States attending the meeting, held every four years to act on maritime and navigation matters of international interest.

Returns Home

FRANKFURT, Germany, June 16 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer returned home today from a three-day visit to Austria. During his stay in Vienna, he signed a treaty which returns to former owners most German assets seized after the war.

Goucher Begins Drive For Funds

TOWSON, Md., June 16 (AP)—Goucher College has begun a drive for five million dollars to build up its endowments, construct five new buildings on its spacious campus and increase the pay of its teachers.

The program, to carry through 1960, was announced by Judge Roszel S. Thomsen, chairman of the board of trustees.

LOW COST PROTECTION

against BIG Medical Bills!

One serious illness or accident can mean thousands of dollars in medical bills. That's more than most people can afford. However, you CAN afford protection against such expenses. For a remarkably low cost, Medical Expense Insurance will give each member of your family up to $5,000 insurance against medical costs, for every separate accident or sickness. Young families get an especially good bargain, because rates are based on age. However, rates are low for every age bracket, and we can prove it. Phone or visit our office for the facts on this new, broader type of policy.

One cure
rising
prices

is to save
an extra nickel
out of every dollar

You CAN do something about today's rising prices! And it's this. Save an extra nickel out of every dollar:

One of the main causes of rising prices is over-spending. If each of us will save only an extra nickel out of every dollar we earn, we will put a strong brake on inflation.

For this will produce billions of dollars in savings—money which is urgently needed to finance more factories, homes and schools.

And, of course, you get a personal bonus from your extra savings—the feeling of independence and security that a growing nest egg brings . . . the feeling that your house is in order.

As a second step to fight inflation, all of us should support every reasonable move to reduce government spending—federal, state and local.

Sure, all this means a sacrifice. But isn't it worth it, if this means continuing our prosperity—and keeping it sound?

106 million policyholders have made life insurance America's most widely used form of thrift. In the interest of these policyholders—in the interest of all of us—the life insurance companies feel they have a duty to help preserve the purchasing power of the dollar.

Old Question: Is Baseball Business?

In one breath they (baseball club owners) say that baseball is a sport, not subject to anti-trust regulations. In another breath they say that they have the right to move franchises in the interests of dollars, selling to the highest bidder. If that isn't business, I'd like to know what is.

That was the reaction of Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) to the sad word—to Brooklynite Celler—that the Dodgers and the New York Giants had permission of the National League to move to Los Angeles and San Francisco, respectively, next season. Manny Celler's view has special significance here, for he heads both the House Judiciary Committee and its subcommittee inquiring into baseball's antitrust status, beginning today.

But the ranking Republican on the subcommittee is calling the chairman 'way off base. "If Congress had not insisted on sticking its nose into baseball's operations, New York would probably not now face the prospect of losing the Giants and Dodgers," Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.) countered. Of a handful of bills affecting baseball at this session of Congress, Keating is sponsoring one which would put the business aspects of baseball, basketball, football, and hockey under the antitrust laws but would exempt their playing rules and contracts from antitrust regulation. Celler, on the other hand, is pushing a bill that would subject baseball to strict enforcement of antitrust laws in all their aspects.

The U. S. Supreme Court has ruled that professional boxing come under the antitrust laws. A federal judge in New York on May 29 tentatively concluded that the boxing "empire" of the International Boxing Club of New York, the International Boxing Club of Illinois, and Madison Square Garden must be broken up. Is baseball any less a business than football?

These Days

Why Have A Law?

The Securities Exchange Act was passed to prevent the unconscionable conduct which brought on the 1929 stock market failure from ever happening again. It may have been too great an ambition, as clever minds will always find a way to get around a law and they can always hire lawyers and accountants to aid and abet them. The Securities and Exchange Commission, generally referred to as SEC, does not have the appropriations or staff to police the entire business world and only catches up with transactions that have become notorious. If the public is swindled there is really little to do about it.

In a letter to Senator O. Eastland, J. Sinclair Armstrong, who in April headed SEC but is now in a more comfortable spot in the Navy, wrote:

"Swiss trusts and similar financial institutions and devices have created a serious problem for the Commission in the enforcement of a number of the provisions in the Securities Act of 1933 and the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The problem arises from the fact that, as you realize, under the laws and customs of Switzerland, Swiss banks and similar institutions do not disclose the names of the persons for whom they are acting. Similar problems arise in connection with American securities held in the names of banks, brokers, or other institutions in other foreign countries, since such institutions are not subject to the jurisdiction of this Commission and there is no way in which we can require them to disclose the identities of their principals if they do not choose to, or are under instructions from their principals not to do so."

But the fact is that thousands of dollars a day are deposited in American banks to be transferred immediately to numbered accounts in Switzerland or elsewhere. The assumption was, until investigation proved it untrue, that the depositor left his name and address. But it has been established that he may leave a fictitious name and address. Actually, the depositor ceases to exist the moment he deposits the money in a perfectly reputable bank in any American city to be transferred to a numbered account in Switzerland or elsewhere. The American bank transfers the money.

The alien bank knows who X98 is and has no interest in the fictitious name of the depositor. Thus, a tax evasion may be practised and all trace of the evader has been removed.

Clever! Of course, it is clever. This transaction involves three minds—the owner of the money, a lawyer, and an accountant. But there is no evidence and there is no any agency of government which has any means to discover what has happened and how much money is being siphoned out of the United States and for what reason.

Armstrong said: "... Inability to ascertain the identity of the beneficial owners of securities of American corporations held by various foreign financial institutions makes it difficult, in some cases, to determine whether or not persons in fact subject to the requirements of Section 16 (a) are complying with these requirements."

Section 16 (a) is important because it means that the beneficial owner of more than 10 per cent of any class of any equity security sold in any American exchange and every officer and director of the issuer of such security must file a record of his holdings. But suppose the holding is by a Swiss Bank or an anonymous personage in Europe or Nassau or Canada, how does the law apply? In a word, a whole set of devices has been developed, the object of which is to violate the law without penalty. And the devices all work well.

In fact, studies show that about 10 per cent of the shares of publicly held corporations in the United States are registered in the names of nominees, that an additional 10 per cent are registered in the names of brokers and dealers, and about 15 per cent more are held in the names of fiduciaries which are impersonal institutions. So who are the beneficial owners? In this 35 per cent may rest the control of a public company. But who are they? And are they the same individual or group hiding behind a fictitious device? This is a very serious matter, as it can affect the national defense and it may influence depressed conditions during an inflationary period.

A Death's Head Symbol In The Middle East

AMMAN, Jordan

By Joseph Alsop

The squalid mud huts climb the scarred slopes or huddle in the stony valleys in half a dozen areas of this hilly little desert city. "Refugees from Palestine, these are," says the taxi driver, pointedly, when you pass one of these melancholy settlements.

Here is human habitation reduced to the neolithic level. The family housing in the 8,000-year-old fortified village just so amazingly discovered near Jericho was quite as good as this. Besides, those forerunners of all the civilization that was to come after, who had even invented organized warfare, as their strong town walls testify, at least had fields to plough and jobs to do. The Arabs driven out of Israel have no fields, and very few have jobs.

Some live in organized camps. Some, like the many here in Amman, live in shantytowns of their own construction. All receive rations from the United Nations. If it were not for this ration of a few measures of flour and a few spoonful of oil, a large majority would simply starve to death.

Thus about a million persons have been living (and of this million, about half in little Jordan) ever since the Palestine war in 1948. The world has comfortably forgotten about them. But they should not be forgotten, if only because the refugee problem is like a deep infection of the blood, which inflames every other problem in the whole Middle East. And this is a good time to remember them for a particular reason.

Henry Labouisse, the quiet but determined American head of the special U.N. organization that handles the refugee problem, has recently passed through here on a fairly desperate mission. He was seeking local support. Before going home to America to defend himself against threatened cuts in his relief budget. The very fact that Labouisse should have to undertake such a mission seems all but incredible, when you consider the character of his budget.

In brief, Labouisse has $25 million a year to provide about a million people with food and medical care. He used to have an additional $15 million to provide schooling for the hundreds of thousands of refugee children, to purchase clothing and the like and to help refugees that may wish to strike out on their own. But this $15 million has already been cut to $12 million.

Consider those charming statistics. Consider that the total outlay for each refugee's food, clothing, health, education, shelter and everything else is not much above forty dollars a year! Yet there is a serious danger that even the U.N. appropriation for food and medical care will be considerably cut!

Labouisse's problem is gravely complicated by the fact that his money comes from a sort of club of voluntary contributors among the U.N.'s member nations. The United States already puts up about three-quarters of the total.

But it does not matter much whether the American Treasury pays the whole bill. It will be criminal lunacy to allow Labouisse's appropriations to be cut at this juncture. One sure result, for instance, will be such refugee riots here in Jordan as may well overturn the new and boldly independent government of young King Hussein.

Baering Down On The News

What has Khrushchev got up his sleeve? The answer is Khrushchev.

Two weeks ago we told you Russian loses a lot in the translation. I told 'em from pulling silk underwear over my head.

Khrushy is as slick as salad oil. And like a shedding crustacean he leaves his old shell as security.

His proposition is, while the Russians retreat about as far as an artist admiring his own painting.

He also said our grandchildren are going to be ashamed of their grandparents. That's been going on since Noah chased the third monkey off the gang-plank.

Just yesterday mine wanted to know where I got that red nose. I told 'em from pulling silk underwear over my head.

After a bit of mature bias and deliberate apathy we turned Khrushy's proposition down. We can do better than that at the store around the corner. And get trading stamps too.

One thing we would like to know about the televised beef. Why were the translators handcuffed together?

Japanese Premier Kishi To Make Blunt Demands Of Ike This Week

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—For the first time in history, either before or after Pearl Harbor, a Japanese Premier meets this week with a President of the United States.

The man who sits down on one side of the desk commanded allied forces during the war. The man on the other side of the table was Minister of Commerce and the Interior in the Cabinet of Japan's war lord, General Tojo. For this he was arrested as a war criminal, but released when it was discovered that he had led a peace movement against Tojo in 1943, one year after Pearl Harbor.

After that experience, Nobusuke Kishi said: "When I said that I was not to be tried, I began to think of the rest of my life as a bonus to be spent wisely. I decided Japan must have real democracy and never again adopt dictatorship."

As Prime Minister, Kishi is endeavoring to live up to that promise. He is a tough, hard-working, fast-thinking politician, who believes in Japanese-American friendship, but also believes that Japan can't play second fiddle to any nation.

Ambassador Douglas MacArthur flew back to Washington in advance of the Premier to warn the White House that Kishi would make such unpopular demands as the end of H-bomb tests in the Pacific and the return of Okinawa to Japan despite its importance to the USA as a military base, and would warn that Japan was resuming trade with Red China on a large scale.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, head of another nation defeated in war, talked tough to Eisenhower last month. Premier Kishi is expected to talk equally tough.

Guided Missile Secrecy

The secret of what happened to the Air Force guided missile Atlas when it mysteriously exploded off the Florida coast last week has caused a minor storm inside the Pentagon. The question is: Should the facts be released to the press?

Inside fact is that the Air Force was about to release them when it got orders from Murray Snyder, the former White House press aide, now Assistant Secretary of Defense, to keep quiet.

The facts which were suppressed are as follows: The Atlas did not explode from internal causes as reported by the press. It got into a shimmy and was deliberately destroyed by the ground safety officer for fear it would fly out of control. Shimmying can lead to sudden off-course deviation by a guided missile.

Nevertheless, the Air Force got some good information from the test and was about to explain the whole thing to the public when it was reminded by Snyder that nothing could be announced about guided missile tests—by order of the President.

Secretaries of the Air Force Douglas, and Secretary of Defense Wilson is reported leaning in his direction.

But an order from Eisenhower is an order, so the news was suppressed.

Our Chickens Come Home

The reason why Canada can divert the Columbia River to flow into the Pacific before it reaches the United States is one of the most ironic chapters in American diplomatic history.

The treaty of 1909 by which she can do this was forced on Canada by the United States much against her will, during the Taft administration. Now it will permit one of the biggest bonanzas in the history of international waterways.

What happened was that by 1903 all boundaries between Canada and the United States had been settled, some of them by Teddy Roosevelt's "Big Stick." Teddy even demanded and got a strip of what is now the Alaskan Panhandle, extending south along the Canadian coast, sealing off the Yukon from

Are you a sufferer from that highly irritating affliction called "hay fever"? Where do you go to seek relief during the hay fever season? The Hay Fever Prevention Society of New York City publishes a pamphlet which lists a number of ragweed free areas where relief from the ailment can be obtained. It also published a pamphlet titled "Hay Fever Relief Hints." And another dealing with a "Honey and Lemon Hay Fever Diet." Incidentally, there are over 400,000 sufferers from hay fever living in New York City.

HORSES AND WOMEN

As you probably know, the line at the top of an advertisement designed to attract a reader's attention is called an "eyecatcher." As for example, a line reading, "She Discovers The Three Telltale Places Where Age Shows First." That is really a potent eyecatcher for feminine readers. What do you say are the three telltale places where a woman's age shows first? I believe the neck and hands are two, but have no selection for the third.

CARDS

"According to Hoyle" is an expression still much used by card players in discussing rules of the games. Hoyle, who died in 1789, wrote about only three card games: piquet, whist and quadrille. The book titled "The Complete Cardplayer" by Albert Ostrow deals with over 350 different card games. It is said there are about 85 million card players in this country. My favorite game is auction pinochle.

LONGEVITY

Eugene Christian, author of "How To Live To Be a Hundred Years Old" died at the age of 69. Eugene Brewer, the inventor of the lawnmower, lived to be over a hundred years old. He attributed his longevity to the exercise he had mowing lawns. Show this to your husband, lady, when he starts to complain about having to mow the lawn.

NEWLIGHTS

Yorker informs me he became a father for the first time at the age of 54. That is unusual but not the record. The distinguished author Dale Carnegie became a father for the first time at the age of 64. The old maid character continues to be popular on television programs. This is because humor concerning old maids gives married women a feeling of superiority.

Reference to the Biblical tale of Jonah and the whale frequently inspires an argument as to whether any fish can swallow a man. A white shark can, in fact, a white shark can swallow a horse or a bullock. A sperm whale can also swallow a man. It has been claimed that a sperm whale actually did swallow an English sailor named James Bartley, who was subsequently rescued and lived to tell the tale.

What ballplayer rates being styled "the greatest hitter of all time"? You say "Babe" Ruth. I don't agree. In my rating the "Miss" is third. Ty Cobb is first, Hans Wagner second. Spackling of Ruth as a hitter his average in batting against his nemesis "Hub" Pruitt was .186. That's really weak hitting. A pitcher would be ashamed of that average. In one season the "Babe" batted against Pruitt 13 times and struck out 16 times!

When are still complaining that while married and single women can be distinguished by the use of "Miss" or "Mrs." there is no similar method of distinction for the male sex. I have no solution for this problem. Perhaps a man should be called "Master" until he has married and "Mr." after he has become somebody's husband. However, how about those married career women who continue to use the "Miss"? Just what is the idea of that? Then take the females who do use the "Mrs." How can you tell whether a "Mrs." is married, is a widow, or is a divorcee?

But the United States was then flowing in the Rio Grande into Mexico. It wanted to be able to divert water from the Rio Grande before it reached Mexico. Therefore, Judson Harmon, Attorney General under Taft, contended that the United States had the right to divert the flow of the Rio Grande and every other international river.

Premier Laurent put up a bitter battle, but lost.

"The rules, principles, and precedents of international law impose no liability or obligation upon the United States," ruled Taft's Attorney General.

So Canada signed the treaty of 1909. Today under that treaty she can do anything she wants regarding the giant Columbia River before it reaches the U. S. border.

Note — British Columbia now proposes to dig a tunnel and divert the river to the Pacific coast through the Fraser River and all-Canadian territory. The pro-American liberal government held back. The new Conservative government, less friendly, may support British Columbia.

The FDA Watches What Goes Into Your Food

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

It is the responsibility of the food and drug administration (FDA) to protect the public from poisonous or deleterious food additives. The food industry, as a whole, is most cooperative along this line. But, as in other businesses, there are a few who prefer the almighty dollar to the public welfare.

I see many of the FDA reports on violations of this type and some of the things they uncover are too nauseating to mention.

Our food is changed to such an extent nowadays it is difficult to determine how much is real and how much is artificial.

The use of chemical additives stems from technological progress in production, processing, and distribution. Mr. Frank A. Vorhes and Dr. Arnold J. Lehman say that 25,000 new substances have been submitted to the FDA for consideration since 1940.

Of these, 20,000 were eliminated immediately because they were acutely toxic and another 4,000 because they were slow acting poisons. An additional 600 were thrown out after exhaustive toxicity tests. This left 400 that were harmless or safe within limits. Approximately 150 have never been tested properly but are presumed to be safe through years of usage.

Considering their task, my hat is off to the FDA. Why is their problem so complex? For one reason, food producers use "a long and lengthening series of chemical additives—insecticides and insect repellents, fungicides, herbicides, defoliants, plant growth regulators, animal growth stimulants and medicaments, crop protectants, and fumigants."

Moreover, food processors are likely to coat "... preservatives, flavors, additives, drying agents, antioxidants, colors, bleaches, moistening agents, thickening agents, sequestering agents, aging agents, stabilizers, emulsifiers, neutralizers, acidifiers, sweeteners—in short, retainers, modifiers, and inhibitors of virtually every property natural food may exhibit."

It is easy to find out whether these materials are highly poisonous but more difficult to determine what they will do to us in 10, 20, 30, or 40 years from now. This is why our government insists upon thorough testing before giving approval for interstate commerce.

The FDA is going a step farther. They now want a law requiring advance testing of chemicals to establish their safety before being used in foods.

ANEMIC WOMAN

Mrs. E. writes: Can an anemic woman become pregnant?

REPLY

Yes, because the number of red blood cells and their iron content have nothing to do with fertilization. On the other hand, women with severe anemia may not menstruate and in this respect become temporarily infertile.

NO EFFECT ON PRESSURE

W. B. writes: Do you know anything about the nicotinic acid formula for high blood pressure?

REPLY

Nicotinic acid (niacin) dilates the small blood vessels and has been recommended in hardening of the arteries but has little or no effect on hypertension.

DISLOCATIONS

G. T. writes: Why do some people dislocate a joint easily and often?

REPLY

Because the joint was injured originally and the capsule that keeps it together was stretched or torn. The frequent dislocations are due to lack of support.

IN VOICE

D. W. writes: Will I be able to sing in the same voice after I have my goiter removed?

REPLY

Yes, provided the surgeon removes the thyroid without cutting a nearby nerve that controls the vocal cords. Good surgeons are on the lookout for this nerve and operate accordingly.

TOMORROW: Aging Lungs.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A class reunion banquet wound up with a series of speeches by old grads—each one a noted bore who had the reputation for never knowing when to stop talking. To help stay awake, one guest organized a sweepstakes, with all the money to go to the entrant who drew the name of the speaker he talked longest.

One celebrity outdid himself, repeating every remark six times, and the man who had drawn his name congratulated himself on an easy victory. The last speaker of the evening, however, was in excellent voice and gave every indication of going on forever. Then, within one minute of the previous long-distance bumbler, he suddenly stopped short and sat down.

"What made you stop virtually in the middle of a sentence?" he was asked later. "A pencilled note that was slipped into my hand," he explained. "The man who wrote it must have a kind heart. It said 'Your pants are falling down.'"

Mitzell, Hemmis Capture Pro Events In Cycle Hill Climb

Nation's Top Scorers Get First, Third

Jacobs And Gordon Mitzell "B" Victors; 600 Witness Events

Howard Mitzell, of York, Pa., and Joseph W. Hemmis, of Cumberland, the nation's top point scorers in slant riding, gained an even break in the two professional events that featured the motorcycle hill climbing program staged yesterday on the Kline Farm near the Cumberland Municipal Airport.

Approximately 600 persons attended. In the first hill climb held in this area since 1954, the 60-year-old Mitzell copped a first and a third and Hemmis, local Baltimore and Ohio railroad clerk, duplicated the Pennsylvanian's performance.

Hemmis took the first 74 cubic inch test in 7.23 seconds. Sam Kakabar, 50-year-old rider of Lloydell, Pa., was second in 7.42, followed by Howard Mitzell (7.43) and Duane Neiland, of Cleveland (7.70).

Mitzell's Time Fastest Howard Mitzell turned in the fastest time of the day in winning the second professional event in 6.88. Duane Neiland was second (7.53). Hemmis, third (7.58) and Andy Baycura, Pittsburgh (7.86).

Ten professional riders participated.

Hemmis has participated in four meets this year and has copped four events in addition to several second, thirds and fourths.

Kakabar Is Injured Sam Kakabar, veteran hill climber of Pennsylvania, suffered an injury in the final professional test when his motorcycle "looped." He was treated at Memorial Hospital. He complained of pains in the back.

Charles Jacobs of Easton, Pa., and Gordon Mitzell, of York, Pa., son of the famed Howard, shared the amateur honors yesterday.

Jacobs copped one of the Class "B" climbs in 8.55 with Mitzell second at 8.57. Carlton Krantz, Tonawanda, N. Y., third, 9.46, and Joe McDonald, Columbus, Ohio, fourth, 9.55.

Gordon Mitzell won the other amateur event in 8.64 seconds. Second place went to Krantz in 8.81 followed by Jacobs in 9.69 and McDonald in 10.76.

Seven Amateurs Vie Seven amateur riders, including two Cumberlanders, Clarence Harper and Joe Grimm, participated. Local press entered were "Buddy" Cosgrove and Hemmis. "Red" Mosser of Altoona, Pa., was the official referee.

Dapper Dan Booster Game Is Set Today

The Dapper Dan Little League will hold its Booster Game today at 6:30 p. m. at Penn Avenue Field.

All 12 teams in the circuit will play two innings each. The Red Sox will play the Athletics, Phillies vs. Senators, Yankees vs. Braves, Pirates vs. Indians, Giants vs. Dodgers and Cardinals vs. Tigers.

A parade of players will precede the game.

Reatus L. Spiker will act as master of ceremonies. He will introduce William V. Keegan, president of the Dapper Dams, Frederick H. Anderson, juvenile magistrate and others.

Braves And Giants, Yankees, Athletics Swap Dozen Players

(By The Associated Press)

The Milwaukee Braves acquired second baseman Red Schoendienst and the New York Yankees obtained outfielder Harry (Suitcase) Simpson Saturday night as the two contenders made late-hour attempts to strengthen their pennant chances in the major leagues.

The deals were completed only hours before the midnight trading deadline.

The Braves received Schoendienst from the New York Giants in return for outfielder Bobby Thomson, infielder Danny O'Connell and righthanded pitcher Ray Crone.

Eight players were involved in the transaction which sent Simpson, a lefthanded power hitter, from Kansas City to the Yanks. New York gave up infielder Billy Martin and pitcher Ralph Terry from the varsity and outfielder Bob Martyn and infielder Woody Held from their farm system. Martyn has been playing with the Yanks' Richmond club in the International League and held with Denver of the American Assn.

With Simpson, New York received pitcher Rindol Duren and outfielder Jim Pisoni, both assigned to Denver, and infielder Milt Graff, assigned to Richmond.

Creegan Wins Odd Hole Test

Six CCC Golfers "Beat The Champ"

John Creegan won the odd hole tournament staged over the weekend by the Men's Golf Association of the Cumberland County Club by shooting a net 36-5-31. Twenty members participated in the event.

Players winning special prizes on par three holes were:

No. 1—John Topper. No. 6—Clifton Van Roby. Nos. 10 and 12—Max Bastian. No. 15—Ronnie Sebra. No. 18—John Creegan.

Six CCC golfers bettered the 70 turned in by Dr. Cary Middlecoff, 1956 National Open champion, on National Golf Day.

Steve Johnson, 12-year-old son of Henry A. Johnson, carded a 83-17-66 tied William George who turned in a 75-9-66. Others who "Beat the Champ" are Clifton Van Roby 70-3-67, Max Bastian 76-9-67, Ed George 93-24-69 and Ben LaNeve 81-12-69. Forty-three turned in scores. Players "beating the champ" will receive medals.

In a third flight match played in the men's spring handicap tournament, Paul M. Fletcher defeated Rodney Pariser, 1 up on the 18th hole.

The CCC men's golf team will play the Maplehurst Country Club next Sunday at 12 o'clock noon at Frostburg. Luncheon will be served at 11 o'clock. Thirty-two players are sought for this match and those desiring to participate are asked to contact Carroll Boggs and Richard Buskey at the club.

Yanks Top A's In Tenth, 8-6

Martin Hits Homer For Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, June 16 (AP)—It took the Yankees 10 innings today, but the result was the same—the third victory in three days for New York over Kansas City, this time 8-6, with Harry Simpson, traded by the Athletics to the Yanks only yesterday, figuring in the winning rally.

Today's line-ups would have been confusing without a program because of the player swap. Billy Martin played second for the Athletics and hit an eighth-inning homer. Yesterday, he wore a Yankee uniform.

With the score tied 5-5 in the top of the 10th, Mickey Mantle walked to third on Simpson's single and scored when Moose Skowron's bouncer caromed off Hector Lopez' gloves for an error.

Simpson and Skowron scored with two out on Elston Howard's pinch single.

Gutowski Eyes 16-Foot Mark In Pole Vault

Will Vie In AAU Meet At Dayton

AUSTIN, Tex., June 16 (AP)—Bob Gutowski, a skinny, 6-footer who propelled his 150 pounds the highest any man ever has reached, was "surprised" that he broke the world's record in the pole vault last night.

But he wasn't down on his own ability enough that he'll stop trying for the magic 16-foot mark. He'll be after that at the National AAU in Dayton, Ohio, this week. Gutowski talked like an old trackster who thought he had seen his best days last night when he spoke of the 15 feet, 9 1/4 inches he attained in the NCAA meet here to wipe out his own world's record of 15 feet, 8 1/4 inches that is now pending.

"I was a little surprised that I did as well as I did because I thought I was going down," he said. "I went down at this time last year. Recently I did only 14-7 and figured I was just about through."

But he said he had a talk with his coach, Chuck Coker, who told him before he made his vault "to punch your knees up and drive up."

"I was able to do it," he added. And, he said, one of his opponents in the vault—Don Bragg of Villanova—helped him to the dizzy heights that had a crowd of 9,500 at the closing session of the NCAA last night apace.

Bragg went up to 15 feet 1 1/4 inches to better his own NCAA record of 15-1 and then they tried 15 feet 5 inches. Bragg failed but Gutowski sailed over.

And so he had won the event but he said he'd like to go after the world's record. So they put the cross bar up to 15 feet 10 1/4 inches. Gutowski made it on his first try and a great roar went up from the crowd. However, measurements showed that the cane was actually only 15 feet 9 1/4 inches from the ground at its center point. But it was a world's record and the highest any man ever has vaulted indoors or out. Cornelius Warmerdam of Fresno State did 15 feet 8 1/4 inches indoors at Chicago in 1943.

Peskin's Wins, 4-3

Peskin's defeated the Sports Shoppe in an exhibition softball game yesterday at East Side Field by the score of 4-3. Showers pitched for Peskin's while Lee and Rich Smith worked on the mound for the Sports Shoppe.

Weighty Matter

BECAUSE of "fraudulent practice," Charlie Burr, leading jockey at the Balmoral meeting in Chicago, has been suspended for the rest of the meeting. According to racing officials Burr thumbed the scales before a race, hoping to pick up enough mud during the race to reach the required poundage when he weighed in after the event. He was three pounds off. (International)

Phils Get One Hit But Beat Burdette, 1-0

Milwaukee Cops First Game, 3-2

PHILADELPHIA, June 16 (AP)—Milwaukee's Lew Burdette lost a one-hitter to Curt Simmons and the Philadelphia Phillies 1-0 in the nightcap of a doubleheader today after the Braves took the opener 3-2 on rookie hurler Juan Pizarro's five-hitter.

Simmons gave up six hits in shutting out the Braves for his fifth victory in eight starts. Burdette's heart-breaking loss was his third against five wins.

Joe Lonnett saved the day for the Phillies, banging out a double to center field to open the sixth inning. He moved to third when Milwaukee newcomer Red Schoendienst threw out Chico Fernandez, then came home on Richie Ashburn's fly ball to Andy Paiko.

Another double won the game for Milwaukee in the opener. Frank Torre's run-scoring blast in the eighth inning was the deciding factor.

Although Burdette gave up only one hit, Simmons had the edge in other statistics. He struck out two batters against Burdette's 1 and gave up only 2 walks compared to Burdette's 4.

Schoendienst, now playing for Milwaukee after a last-day trade yesterday, showed up well in the first game but went hitless in the nightcap.

Orioles Drop Two To Tribe

Narleski And Wynn Score, 4-3 And 5-1

CLEVELAND, June 16 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians swept a doubleheader from the Baltimore Orioles today. They won the nightcap 5-1 behind the six-hit pitching of Early Wynn and homers by Al Smith and Dick Williams. The Indians won the first game 4-3.

It was the eighth triumph of the season for the 37-year-old right-hander, who shut out the Orioles for seven innings.

Smith was the first batter to face Baltimore's starter Billy O'Dell and homered into the left field stands.

The Orioles scored their only run off Wynn in the eighth on a double by Billy Gardner and a single by Goodman.

Roger Maris' two-run single gave the Indians a 4-3 victory in the first game. Ray Narleski, pitching in relief of starter Don Mossi and Cal McLish, posted his fifth victory.

White Sox Take Pair, Boost Lead

Washington Loses 4-2, 8-6 Contests

CHICAGO, June 16 (AP)—Reliever Dixie Howell's two successive home runs sparked the Chicago White Sox to an 8-6 come-from-behind victory over the Washington Senators today in the second game of a doubleheader after the league leaders had taken the opener, 4-2, on two-run homers by Minoso and Jim Rivera.

Howell relieved starter Jack Harshman in the fifth inning, and when the frame was over the Senators held a 6-0 lead. The big righthander slammed a 390-foot homer to lead off the fifth in which the Sox scored two more runs on singles by Nellie Fox and Walt Dropo, sandwiched by Minoso's double.

With two out in the sixth, Howell drove his second homer into the upper deck to cut Washington's lead to two runs before the Sox staged a four-run uprising in the eighth to clinch the issue and stretch their American League lead to 3 1/2 games.

Minoso's fourth homer of the season off starter Pedro Ramos in the first inning of the opener sent the Sox to a 2-0 lead.

Washington tied the score in the fifth inning with four of their seven hits for a pair of runs off starter Jim Wilson who posted his seventh victory against three losses.

Rivera snapped the tie in the sixth with a blast into the upper deck.

Cub Home Runs Defeat Buccos In Opener, 4-1

Curfew Halts 2nd, Score Tied At 4-4

PITTSBURGH, June 16 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs with the help of booming home runs, rain and a curfew moved within a few percentage points of seventh place today with a 4-1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates in the first game of a twin-bill. The second game, delayed 58 minutes, by rain, was suspended by curfew with the score knotted 4-4 after 6 1-3 innings.

In the opener, Don Kaiser, 21-year-old Cub bonus hurler, picked up his second victory. He scattered seven hits over seven frames but was lifted in favor of Turk Lown in the eighth after he began to tire. The loser was southpaw Luis Arroyo.

Home runs by Jim Bolger, Ernie Banks and Walt Moryn accounted for all of the Cubs' scoring in the first contest. Banks also homered in the second game—his 110th—a solo blast in the fourth.

Bob Rush (1-6) started the second game for the Cubs with Bob Purkey (5-4) hurling for the Pirates. The crowd was 18,525. It was hot and humid with temperatures in the 90s.

Old Exports Snap Lewis' Win Streak

Mt. Savage Loses, 7-2; Grantsville Tops Zihlman, 9-2

PEN-MAR LEAGUE

Barrelville's Old Exports stopped the five-game winning streak of Tommy Lewis by defeating the Mt. Savage Old Germans, 7-2, and the Grantsville Sluggers downed Zihlman to the tune of 9-2 in Pen-Mar Baseball League games played yesterday at Mt. Savage and Grantsville.

Rain washed out the Centerville at Hyndman contest and also stopped the Wellersburg at Flintstone contest in the first inning with the Farmers leading by the score of 1-0.

Lewis, who had reeled off five wins in a row at the expense of Centerville, Zihlman, Flintstone, Grantsville and Hyndman, suffered his first setback of the season at the hands of the Old Exports and Bill Dickel, who went the route, scattered eight hits and registered his first win of the campaign.

Make Eight Errors Mt. Savage played loosely afield, was charged with eight miscus and six of Barrelville's runs were unearned. Johnny Horwath collected two hits and Jack Brannapped a triple for the Old Exports. Vince King collected two safeties and Arch Lennox halted a two-run homer in the fifth inning for Mt. Savage.

Lewis gave up seven hits and struck out seven. Tommy had won nine consecutive league games in two seasons prior to yesterday's loss. He was 4-0 last season.

The fielding highlight was a leaping catch by Stuckley, Barrelville left fielder, who snared a line drive from the bat of Curtis Johnson in the fourth inning.

Keister Gets Five Hits

Player-manager John Keister, who was hospitalized Saturday after being injured in an automobile accident while returning from a league game at Centerville, returned to action yesterday despite his bruises and was the "big gun" in Grantsville's triumph over Zihlman.

In addition to catching the entire game, Keister collected five hits in five trips to the plate—three singles, a triple and double—and batted in two runs.

Lynn Kitzmiller, Grantsville hurler, pitched shutout ball after the second inning, fanned four and walked one and notched his second win against a single setback. Flegle, Zihlman twirler, yielded 13 hits, gave up one pass and whiffed four.

Joe Wengert Hits Homer Joe Wengert of the Sluggers smashed a home run and Tony Wengert slammed a triple and two singles in four official trips. Barney Spearman, "Chuck" Eichrich and Tommy Dunn obtained two hits each for the losers.

Yesterday marked the second straight Sunday that rain had marred the Pen-Mar League program. A week ago three games were washed out.

DEATHS AND FUNERAL NOTICES

Farm Youth Will Leave For France

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. — Kenneth R. Harper, Pendleton County, will leave New York tomorrow as a "goodwill ambassador" to France, C. P. Dorsey, State 4-H Club Leader at West Virginia University, stated. Harper is West Virginia's 1957 International Farm Youth Exchange.

As an IFYE, Harper will spend approximately four months living and working with farm families in the country to which he has been assigned. Before leaving for France, he spent a week in Washington, D. C., with other IFYE's from the United States attending orientation classes. He will return to West Virginia in mid-November to tell groups throughout the Mountain State of his experiences in France.

The International Farm Youth Exchange is a "people-to-people" program to promote understanding among the free countries of the world, Dorsey said. In the United States, the IFYE program is conducted by the National 4-H Club Foundation and the Cooperative Extension Service.

As a part of this program, West Virginia is now acting as host to two men from India, Balbir Singh Basi and Raghu Nath Krishnaji Wadkar, and a young woman from Brazil, Lucia Barbosa Gurgel Nogueira. In August, John Farrington, an IFYE from Ireland, will arrive to spend time living and working with West Virginia farm families.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Ella Fern Richardson, who passed away two years ago, June 16, 1955.

In our hearts we'd like to stray, Along the roads of yesterday, To hear her laugh and see her smile, And talk with her a little while, But we cannot bring the old days back, Her hand we can not touch, But God has given us sweet memories, Of the one we loved so much, Our minds go wandering when daylight fades.

To the lands of yesterday, And memories point the scenes of old, In the gold of the twilight glow, We seem to see in the soft dim light, The face we loved the best, And we think of her when the sun's last rays go down in the Golden West.

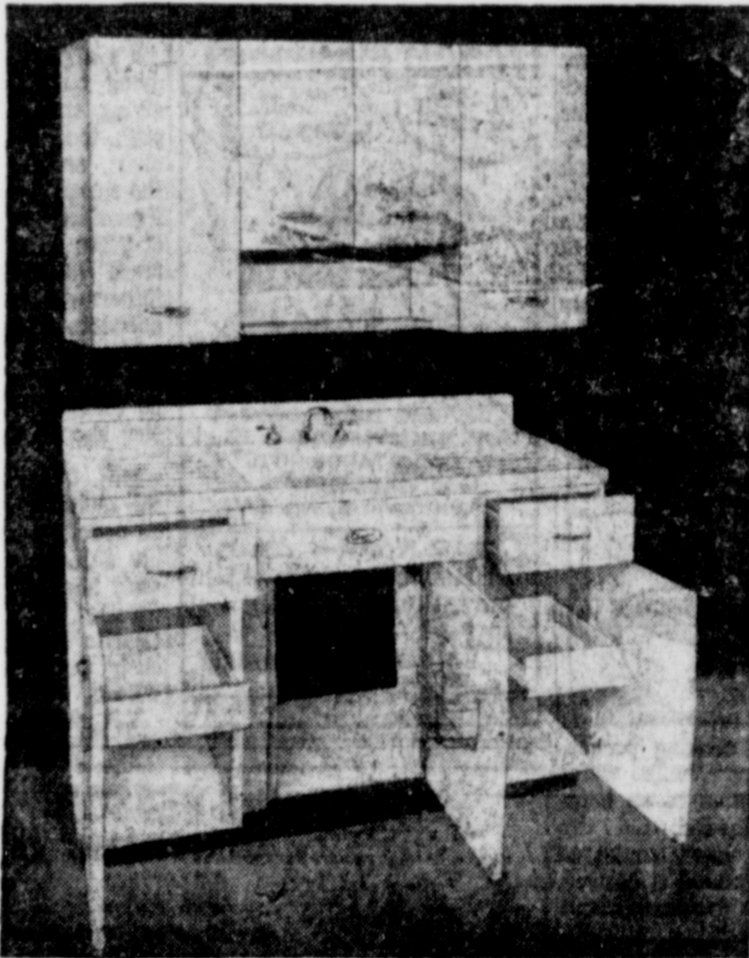

And day by day, we miss her more, As we walk through life alone, A beautiful life came to an end, She lived as she died, everyone's friend, She is sadly missed by her family, Dad, Mother and Charlotte, Frank, Ida and Children, Daniel Folk, Jr.

Peeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

OLLYWOOD, June 14 (INS)—When I read that Peggy Hopkins Joyce was gone, I couldn't help but think of the time she crossed on the same boat with Dr. Martin and myself to Europe. Every night Peggy ordered vintage champagne, and two young men, who are now happily married, footed the bills. Just before we docked in New York, each came to my husband and said, "Could we borrow some money?" In trying to win the smiles of Peggy they had gone broke.

Peggy was always able to attract the men, and she believed that her admirers should pay for her attention. She was a dazzling beauty 25 years ago.

A note from Bette Davis apologizing that she was not on the set when I telephoned her the day she and Gary Merrill separated.

Both Bette and Gary go poetic in their explanation. Says Bette: "I write this note in haste. Had I been able to come to the phone today I could not have expressed how I feel better than James Russell Lowell in his 'Legend of Brittany': 'Fit the language there is none, for the heart's deepest things.'"

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Wonder if Lilli Palmer's bitterness toward Hollywood will change when she becomes the bride of Carlos Thompson in August, just two weeks after her ex, Rex Harrison, and Kay Kendall tie the knot?

Again Zsa Zsa Gabor and Tom Duggan were at Ye Little Club to hear Abbey Lincoln. Zsa Zsa has been seeing quite a little of the TV entertainer.

Pam Gallagher daughter of Pauline and the late Skeets Gallagher, underwent surgery at St. John's Hospital for the removal of a cyst.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

A Charming Voice

As far as men are concerned, nothing is more damaging to a woman's personality than an unattractive voice. Watch. Men will go out of their way to avoid a woman who has a harsh, nasal speech or a nagging voice.

There is no substitute for the pleasure a charming voice gives to its listeners. Poets realized this when they penned beautiful phrases about the fascination of a lovely speaking voice. "How wonderful is the human voice! It is indeed the organ of the soul. The intellect of man sits enthroned, visibly, on his forehead and in his eye, and the heart of man is written on his countenance, but the soul reveals itself in the voice only." So wrote Longfellow.

Increase Resonance

Few women realize the great appeal a resonant speaking voice gives them. You can work for increased resonance. In fact, we have a booklet designed especially to help you improve your speaking voice. Follow the instructions faithfully, and you'll find that you have added a "major attraction" to your charm. Even exercises for breath control are included. This is most important, for a person speaks only as well as he breathes. Send for

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, June 16 — (INS)—Congrats to Sherman Billingsley. With UN disarmament talks at a stalemate in London, he reduced his arsenal by 75 per cent. Let's hope it breaks the ice between Hal Stassen and Val Zorin.

The poor old doll who starved herself to death the other day, with half a million dollars lying around, succeeded where certain diet-conscious gals we know—some with lots more dough—have barely failed.

Benito Collada, owner of New York's oldest night spot under single management, El Chico, complains to Mayor Wagner as follows:

"While I sympathize fully with your concern in preventing the Giants and Dodgers from moving out of town, I suggest you devote some attention to a long standing situation which is driving night life out of town, too."

"New York is fast becoming a hick town. Over the past years, prohibitive amusement taxes, 20 per cent federal and five per cent city, have been largely responsible for numerous casualties, including the Diamond Horseshoe, Le Martinique, Leon and Eddie's, La Conga, Beachcomber, Havana Madrid and, more recently, Vie En Rose and the Versailles."

Saw a fine thing recently. Lt. Gen. Rosy O'Donnell, one of the fighting men in our military history, returned to Lou Marx's suite at the Waldorf after speaking at a circus Saints and Sinners luncheon in the same hotel. There was a large crowd there ready to tell him what a fine talk he had made, but the general walked immediately to his father, clapped him fondly on the back and kissed him on the cheek.

It's a gesture that seems to be dying out, this matter of sons giving the old man a buss. A pity, too. I'll never forget one night around the campfire at Bohemian Grove, up from San Francisco, when undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr., arrived from Washington as his father was telling some fabulous anecdote from the past.

The world famous father and son embraced and kissed, with no thought of self consciousness. Nor should there be any.

Mrs. Charlie Wilson's husband, the secretary of defense, has given countless press conferences in his day, on and off the record (and sometimes the twin shall meet). No one had defended Charlie more loyally and vigorously, right or wrong, than Mrs. Wilson.

Yet she never attended one of

It was a tentative approach to a conditional consideration of a hypothetical proposition for an exploratory exercise." War was made on Egypt to justify that.

n The Side

Searching for a new on the offbeat side, entertained by the Leon Pearson and dey on NBC's new radio show (NBC 10 Tues., Wed., here is plenty of s on this show, too ent, China policy, all that—contributed gronsky and Joseph the Messrs. Brinkley concentrate on a line of concern like, saving time.

ago, Mr. Brinkley is listeners to Rep. "Hara" whom he de he "world's leading a the unbelievable ight saving time," just long enough to get money to get drunk again. A bum, a real bum. O'Neill turned to writing because he was demon-rid den. And Faulkner tells of drinking corn liquor before breakfast "with those unhuman people who live between the Mississippi and the levee."

"But some writers are sick enough without any alcoholic eccentricities. James Thurber says: 'I had cataract, glaucoma, sympathetic ophthalmia, pneumonia, ruptured appendix, peritonitis and toxic thyroid.' And Thurber adds: 'What a writer needs is handicaps.'"

"Now do you see what I mean? I'm too healthy to be any good as a writer. And I don't drink enough."

Turning to other matters, Betty Furness has been selling me all these years, the refrigerators, the TV sets, the dishwashers. But I drew the line when on "Studio One." Miss Furness started outlining the charms of a jet engine. My eyesight is barely good enough to grapple with gasoline engines. Well, the other day, Westinghouse, feeling it's lost my jet engine trade, tried to sell me an elevator on "Studio One." I suppose, though, that'll be the next big thing in consumer goods.

Trio Of Soviet Subs Near Egypt

LONDON, June 16 (AP)—A British admiralty spokesman said that three Soviet submarines are in the Mediterranean en route to Egypt and they may be transferred to the Egyptian navy.

Authoritative naval works now list no submarines in Egypt's small navy.

The three mentioned by the spokesman were sighted in the English Channel nine days ago.

Two U.S. destroyers have kept an eye on the Soviet subs for at least part of their voyage from the Baltic to the Mediterranean, naval informants reported.

BELGRADE, June 16 (AP)—The official news agency Tanjug reported tonight from Paris that Dr. Linus Pauling, Nobel prize-winning American chemist, will visit Yugoslavia this summer.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—You are South, have 60 part score, and hold:

AKJ104♥A73♦95♠AJ63

Bidding has proceeded:

South West North East
1 club Pass 1 spade Pass
2 spades Pass 3 diamonds Pass

What do you bid now?

A—Three hearts. This bid can be construed in no other light than that of an ace showing bid. Spades have been agreed upon as trumps, and partner by overbidding the game is not merely showing that he has diamonds, which actually he may not have, but is making a distinct effort toward slam. You have the right kind of cards for slam purposes, and you should not be bashful about mentioning the fact.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

AK4♥854♦Q10875♠A62

Bidding has proceeded:

North East South West
1 diamond 2 diamonds ?
What do you bid now?

A—East has announced a game going hand, and while you might desire to interrupt communications between the opponents, you cannot afford to go very high because it might prove costly should they abandon their game and double you instead. However, partner should be assured that you have diamond support and some high card value. You may do this by doubling the two diamond bid and leave the rest to him.

Q. 3—As South you hold:

AK74♥63♦KQ8652♠954

Bidding has proceeded:

North East South West
1 spade 2 clubs Pass
What do you bid now?

A—The suggested bid is a jump to four diamonds. In view of your previous refusal to bid, partner cannot expect more than this, but is entitled to know that you have a good diamond suit in view of the fact that he wishes to contract for game though you may have little or nothing.

Q. 4—As South you hold:

AJ752♥QJ853♦954♠10

Bidding has proceeded:

North East South West
1 club Pass 1 heart Pass
1 spade Pass 2
What do you bid now?

A—Pass. You've done enough already. Surely game is out of the question, and if you bid again, even the most tolerant partner will look for more than a queen and two jacks in your hand.

Q. 5—Both sides have 60 part score and as South you hold:

AQ73♥5♦KQ942♠K643

Bidding has proceeded:

West North East South
1 heart 1 spade 2 hearts ?
What do you bid?

A—Three diamonds. You must contemplate the practical necessity for bidding twice in view of the part score situation. It is a moral certainty that the opponents will contest at three hearts. You will then be in a position to compete once more with a bid of three spades.

Q. 6—As South you hold:

AKJ1064♥753♦42♠AK6

Bidding has proceeded:

North East South West
1 diamond 1 heart 2 spade Pass
What do you bid now?

A—Four clubs. A mild try for bigger things. If partner has a maximum raise, to three spades that includes control of hearts, something glamorous may develop.

Q. 7—As South you hold:

AK5♥AKQ98543♦6♠73

Bidding has proceeded:

North East South West
1 heart 1 spade 1 heart 2 spades
Double Pass
What do you bid now?

A—Pass. Your preemptive bid has warned partner that you are not to be relied upon for any defensive strength, and he is therefore doubling on his own power. The fact that you hold the king of spades should be a pleasant surprise. For you to go on to five hearts would be an unwarranted usurpation of authority.

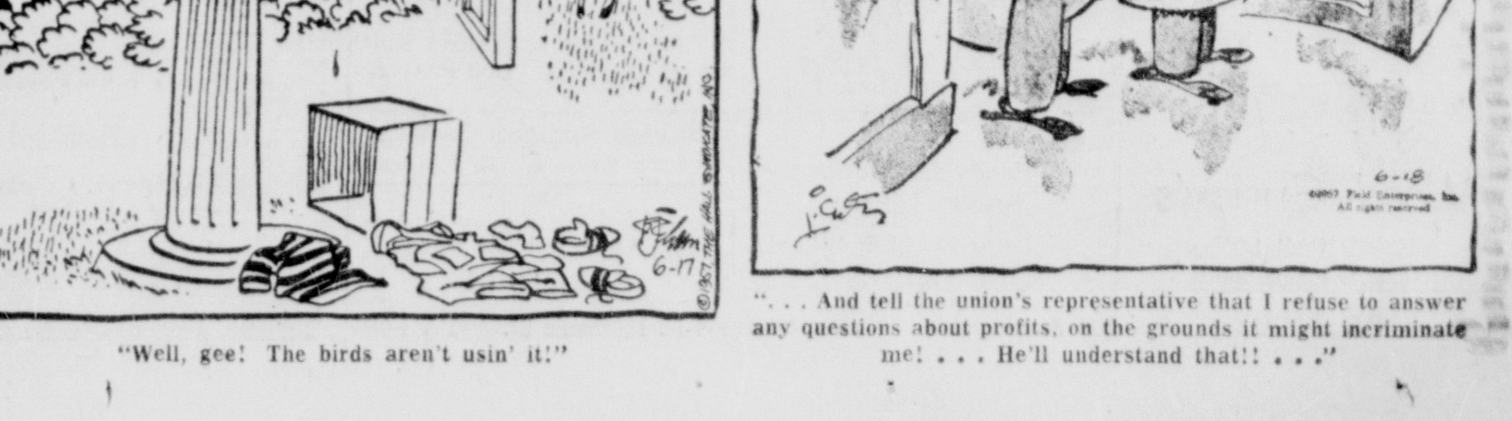

Q. 8—As South you hold:

AK6-2♥K53♦A97♠K1092

Bidding has proceeded:

South West North East
1 club 1 spade 1 spade 2 clubs
1 no trump Pass 2 clubs Pass
What do you bid now?

A—Pass. There is a temptation to return to two spades on this hand, but it should be curbed. Your hand is such a minimum that there can be no reasonable question of a game.

Hearings Set This Week In State Cases

Four cases involving the State Employment Security Board are scheduled for Tuesday in Circuit Court before Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris.

One of the cases is that of the state agency against P. L. Phillips, trading as the Tip Top Barber Shop. The state claims that Phillips has failed to pay into the unemployment compensation fund as required.

Phillips claims that the barbers working in his shop are independent workers on a commission basis and not employees of the shop.

The other three cases are those brought by workers against the state for unemployment compensation benefits which have been denied them.

They are Marguerite Thorpe, an employee of Davies and Hemphill, William H. Waltman, an employee of the Ford Motor Company at Bedford, Ohio, and Jeanette V. Broadwater, an employee of the Celanese Corporation of America.

2 Women Die In Weekend Accidents

Expectant Mother Killed In Crash Near Burlington

Two women were killed in separate traffic accidents on highways in nearby West Virginia over the weekend.

Mrs. John Jarrell, 21, of Washington, D.C., died a few minutes after the automobile in which she was a passenger crashed into a car traveling in the opposite direction on U.S. Route 50 about four miles west of Burlington in Mineral County.

West Virginia State Trooper C. C. Oliver, stationed at Keyser, said that the car in which Mrs. Jarrell was riding was traveling east on Route 50 and was being driven by her husband, John Jarrell, 19, a serviceman stationed in the Washington area.

Skids, Hits Other Car

Trooper Oliver said Jarrell's car apparently skidded on the wet highway and into the path of a westbound car being driven by Jack Kight of Oakland. The car skidded sideways, and the right side of the car in which Mrs. Jarrell was riding struck the front of Kight's car.

The dead woman, who formerly lived in Kentucky, was expecting her first child in about two months, the trooper reported.

Both drivers were admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital in Keyser but were not considered seriously hurt. Kight sustained a head laceration and Jarrell had minor bruises. Also slightly hurt was Jarrell's younger brother, about 14, whose name was not available last night. He too was kept at the Keyser hospital for overnight observation.

Trooper Oliver said Jarrell will be charged with negligent homicide, although no charge had been placed against him last night.

Philippi Woman Killed

A 60-year-old Philippi, W. Va., woman was killed Saturday when the car in which she was riding crashed into another car near Kasson, W. Va.

Mrs. Orpha Watts, who was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, John Hardie Watts, reportedly died of a broken neck.

Her husband sustained a lacerated right arm and is being treated for shock at Broadus Hospital at Philippi.

Trooper R. R. Karickhoff, who investigated, said the two cars met head-on on Route 92. Full details of the accident and the name of the injured driver of the other car were not available last night. Also surviving besides her husband are a son, Dorsey Watts, Florida, and two nieces, Mrs. Harry Poling, this city, and Mrs. William Hartman, Ellerslie.

5 Hurt In Triple Crash

Among other weekend accidents in the area was a triple collision on U. S. 40 west of Frostburg Saturday evening in which five persons were hurt.

State Police Tfc. Glen D. Folk said a tractor-trailer driven east by Gus Martin, 43, Joplin, Mo., skidded while descending a grade, hit a truck driven by Steve Franko of Mansfield, Ohio, then jackknifed and hit a car driven by Charles O. Bender, 53, of Grantsville.

Bender and a passenger, Thomas Shroyer, 17, Friendsville, were admitted to Memorial Hospital here. Bender with a scalp laceration and possible leg and chest injuries, Shroyer with multiple lacerations and abrasions. Another passenger in the car, John A. Keister Jr., Salisbury, Pa., was not hospitalized.

Martin and Mrs. Rose Marie Foreman, 34, Martinsburg, W. Va., who was riding in the Franko truck, were admitted to Miners Hospital, Frostburg, for observation and X-rays.

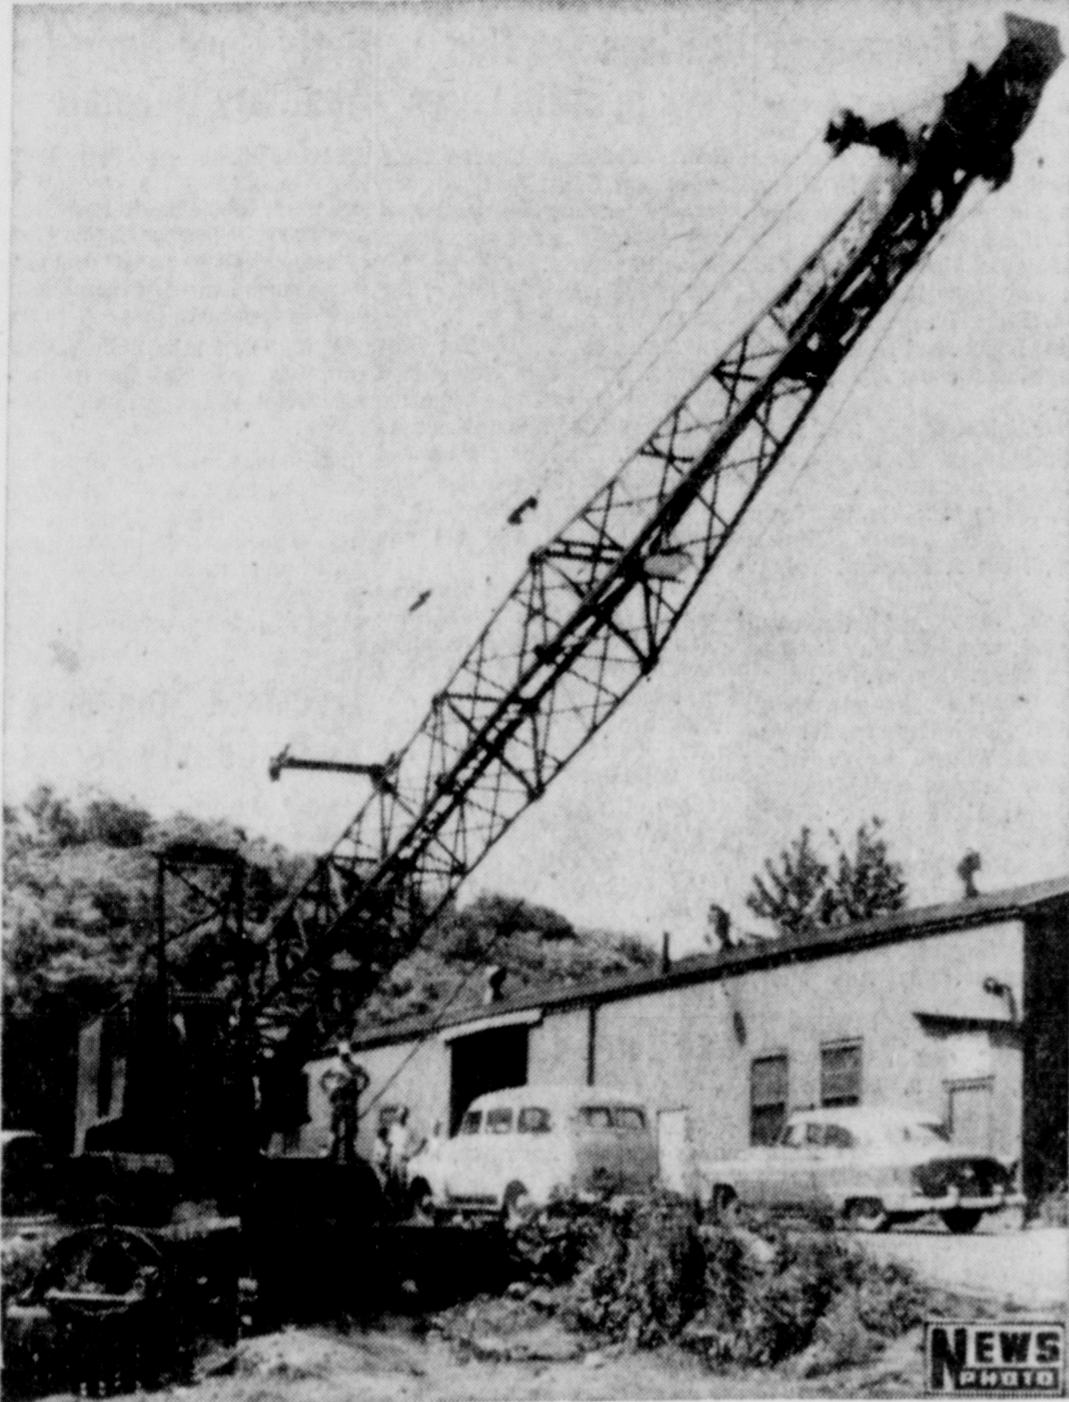

No charges were filed pending further investigation.

Other Accidents

James Lee Boulden, 35, of Baltimore, was admitted Saturday to Community Hospital, Meyersdale, Pa., with fractured vertebrae and fractured leg after a car in which he was riding skidded on wet U. S. 40 while descending Negro Mountain, hitting guardrails on both sides of the road. The driver, Harry Edward Miller, 20, of RD 2, Accident, ap-Continued on Page 11, Col. 6

Takes Four-Yard Bites

This new Northwest crane was brought here by the E. J. Albrecht Company, Chicago, to speed work on Section 2 of the Potomac River phase of the flood control project. The rig, the biggest of the $18,000,000 project, is equipped with a four-yard bucket which is being used to scoop out a new channel for the river below the new Potomac River Bridge.

Wheat Quota Vote Thursday

Only 10 Allegany County farmers are eligible to vote in the wheat marketing quota referendum to be held next Thursday between 8 a. m. and 7 p. m. at the County Agricultural Conservation and Stabilization Committee office at 37 Washington Street, according to James H. Weimer, committee chairman.

Last year only three out of 11 eligible bothered to cast ballots in the national referendum.

Growers eligible to vote in the referendum are all those entitled to share in the 1956 wheat crop from a farm on which the wheat acreage to be harvested, plus any acreage to be placed in the wheat acreage reserve, will be more than 15 acres. These farmers are being notified of their wheat allotments. Quotas do not affect those farmers who harvest 15 acres of wheat or less for grain on a farm.

If two-thirds of the growers voting in the wheat referendum approve the quotas, they will remain in effect for 1958 and price supports will be available to farmers who have complied with their farm wheat allotments at a minimum national average of $1.78 a bushel.

If more than one-third of the growers voting disapprove the quotas, they will not be in effect and price support will be available to farmers who have complied with their farm wheat allotments at 50 per cent of parity.

State Police Tfc. Glen D. Folk said a tractor-trailer driven east by Gus Martin, 43, Joplin, Mo., skidded while descending a grade, hit a truck driven by Steve Franko of Mansfield, Ohio, then jackknifed and hit a car driven by Charles O. Bender, 53, of Grantsville.

County Agent Offers Advice On Bagworms

County Agent Joseph M. Steger states that he has received several reports of bagworms on juniper, arbor vitae and other evergreens.

It has been suggested that the plants be sprayed as the worms are getting their start and before damage shows up. It is suggested that a quarter cup of lead arsenate or two tablespoons of malathion be used to three gallons of water.

Today's Sermonette

Today's Sermonette is a digest of a sermon preached at Grace Baptist Church by the pastor, Rev. W. Randolph Keefe. The sermon digests are being prepared through the cooperation of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

God is a spirit; they that worship Him must worship in spirit and in truth, John 4:24.

'Worship God'

By REV. RANDOLPH KEEFE

Some think man is incurably religious. Others think he is incurably irreligious. We are all made in God's image. He has breathed into us a living soul. God has made us for Himself and our souls shall rest until they rest in Him.

Worship is tremendously important. Man becomes more and more like that which he worships. When a man does not worship God he will worship something. That something will be detrimental. Whatever it is it will alienate us from God and make us ungodly.

The man who refuses to worship God starves his own soul. It would be better for one to refuse to eat food for his body and die than to refuse to worship God and die spiritually. The body is the temple of the soul. Our bodies go back to dust when we die but our souls live on eternally. They never die. The soul that worships God in spirit and in truth will live with God in the heavenly mansions forever.

Abraham was called of God to leave his native land and dwell in the land to which God would lead him. Wherever he went Abraham erected an altar and there worshipped God.

Many today are being transplanted from their homes, called upon to leave their hometowns and go dwell in cities they had never known before.

Many are living in houses that travel on wheels. How we all need to be ready when we move from one place to another to erect an altar or find a place of worship in our new dwelling place to worship God.

Many Christians today are leaving their God behind when they move. It is when we leave our home town and old friends and move into a new home and among strangers that we need more than ever to find a place where we can worship God. God's ear is open to our cry wherever we call upon Him. His heart is just as responsive to our needs here as when we were back home.

Everyone who has worshipped God has discovered a fellowship among those who love and worship the same God. Wherever you live you have neighbors that would enjoy and be edified by worshipping God with you and you would be happy and profit by worshipping with them. All who worship God are glad to have us join them in the worship of their God and ours. Neglect not then, my brother, to assemble with others who like yourself are happily blessed by gathering together with those who love the Lord to worship Him.

No man can flee from God. Even though he go to the jungles or to the South Pole or anywhere in between. Whether to the bottom of the sea or above the earth's stratosphere God is there. Knowing He is never far from any of us let us worship Him in truth and in sincerity. Because of our need of Him and for his mercy and grace and generous supply of all our needs let us praise His name and humbly bow our heads in His sanctuary and offer our gratitude unto our God.

Abraham went to many different places while roaming this earth. Where he went is not so important. The important thing is that wherever he went he worshipped God. For you and me the important thing is not where we are or where we might go; but that we go where God would have us go, do what God would have us do, and worship God wherever we might be.

Allegany Gets Hostess Role For Md. PTA

County Residents Given Major Duties

Allegany County will serve as the hostess county for the 25th anniversary summer conference of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers which will be held at the University of Maryland July 15, 16 and 17.

This conference is being arranged in cooperation with the University of Maryland and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Purpose of the conference is to educate, strengthen and inspire parent-teacher leaders, through mutual learning and fellowship. The theme will be T 'N' T (Tools 'n' Technique).

Mrs. Lawrence H. Shaffer, 1116 Bedford Street, will serve as hospitality chairman for the three-day conference. She is the president of the Allegany County PTA council.

Dr. Lillian C. Compton, 4 Browning Street, retired president of Frostburg State Teachers College, will give the invocation at the July 15 morning session of the conference.

Monday afternoon sessions at the conference will consider juvenile protection, PTA techniques, congress tools and parliamentary procedure.

Tuesday afternoon, the conference delegates will be guests at tea with Dr. and Mrs. Wilson H. Elkins at Rossborough Inn.

Maryland is divided into eight districts for PTA purposes. Dr. Adam Baer of Frostburg is the District 1 vice president, serving Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties.

Dr. Compton is state school education chairman of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers. Mrs. Kermit Glatfelter of Accident is state rural service chairman. Miss Dorothy Shires, a native of Cumberland, who is state supervisor of pupil personnel, is state chairman of parent and family life education.

Lightning Hits Transformer At Fair Grandstand

Members of Cresaptown and Bowling Green volunteer fire companies answered a call yesterday afternoon at the grandstand at Cumberland Fairgrounds when a transformer there was struck by lightning.

Firemen reported the fire in the transformer was out when they arrived. The transformer is located on a utility pole just across from the grandstand.

Central Fire Department extinguished some cross ties that caught fire in the west yard of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

Central also answered a call yesterday at 424 North Centre Street when a skillet caught fire in a kitchen.

Local Sailors Visit California

Prendergast, 511 Washington Street, have been assigned to Norfolk (Va.) Naval Receiving Station for transfer to their respective ships. Thrasher will serve on the destroyer USS Haynsworth, and Prendergast will serve on the landing ship USS Tallahatchie County.

Conservationist Checks Pond Site On Campus

A wide variety of activities including the examination of pond sites for Frostburg State Teachers College and the Maplehurst Country Club were included in the May report of Martin M. Gordon, soil conservation aide, to the Allegany County Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors.

One livestock water pond was completed on the farm of Lester Rader, Green Ridge Mountain. Surveys were made for Charles E. Durr, Winchester Road, and Robert Apple, Town Creek. Pond sites were examined on the farms of Wilbert Paul, Lester Beal and Raymond Lephay at Mt. Savage as well as at the college and Maplehurst Country Club.

Mr. Gordon also reported that 15 acres of sub-soiling was done on the farm of William Rephann of Pinto and contour strips were laid for Wilbert Paul at Mt. Savage.

Three tile lines were installed during May. One for 1,000 feet was on the farm of Edward Rephann of Dawson. Some 1,700 feet were installed at Mt. Calvary Cemetery on Mason Road and 1,000 feet on the farm of Carl J. Browning at Flintstone.

Another phase of the activities concerned school children. Conservation problems were discussed with the senior class of Flintstone High School. Sixth graders from East Side and John Humbird schools were taken on conservation tours of the eastern end of the county. LaVale Boy Scouts also went on a conservation tour.

Mr. Gordon was assisted by Assistant District Forester Harry Hartman and Kenneth M. Stone, soil scientist.

Three new district cooperators were added during May. They were Erle F. Herbert Jr. of Silver Spring, who bought a 220-acre farm on Town Creek from Albert Slider; J. William Loar, who leased 57 acres from the Celanese Corporation, and James Sparks of Pittsburgh, Pa., who owns 90 acres at Piney Plains.

Myles Paul Thompson, Midland, received a bachelor of arts degree with a major in sociology. He previously received the degree of associate of arts from the university in 1956.

Preparations For LaVale Vote Complete

Zoning Election Set For Tomorrow

Last-minute preparations for LaVale's special zoning election are being completed today on the eve of the two-fold referendum.

Some 2,300 qualified voters of Election District 29, except those living in the Cresaptown Special Taxing Area, are eligible to vote between 7 a. m. and 7 p. m. tomorrow in the LaVale Fire Hall.

Tomorrow, the voters of LaVale first will decide whether they want zoning regulations in their rapidly-growing suburban area. They also will select three men from among six candidates to constitute the LaVale Zoning Board if the zoning regulations are accepted.

Nominees for the zoning board, alphabetically listed, are Leslie J. Clark, C. Arthur Lancaster, James E. Robertson, John J. Rowan, Charles A. Smith and W. William Yoder.

Tomorrow's election is in compliance with the provisions of Senate Bill 438, introduced by State Senator Charles M. See, and passed by the General Assembly in Annapolis. It authorizes zoning if the residents of LaVale want it.

The movement for zoning regulations in LaVale was started last summer by the LaVale Civic Improvement Association when a committee from the association met with the Allegany County Board of Commissioners and received approval to contact the County Delegation to get the necessary legislation passed.

The association has been working through the Boy Scouts of LaVale, who have been distributing pamphlets to the citizens urging them to vote in the June 18 referendum. The association also will utilize an automobile equipped with public address system to stimulate the vote. What's more, the association is providing transportation to and from the polls.

Four voting machines have been sent to the LaVale Fire Hall for the election.

Bible School Opens Today

Grace Baptist Church will begin its 21st annual daily vacation Bible school today with 50 pupils registered. Preparation day was held last Tuesday, when pupils learned the call to worship, the motto and the salute to the flags, and the faculty completed a course in Bible school teaching under direction of Mrs. A. N. Billings.

Commencement will be held Friday evening, June 28. Classes will be held from 9 a. m. to noon Monday through Friday this week and next.

Rev. W. Randolph Keefe, pastor, will lead worship each morning, with Mrs. Samuel L. Blume and Mrs. Keefe as pianists. The character story will be told the juniors each day by Mrs. Robert C. Matlack, and creative activity for junior and intermediate boys will be led by Mrs. Billings. Intermediates will be taught by Mrs. L. A. Barnes Jr., assisted by Mrs. Fern E. Wilson and Rev. Keefe.

Mrs. Frank A. Trozzo and Mrs. George Thomas DeVore will head the two junior departments, assisted by Mrs. George M. Digman, Mrs. Robert W. Lewis, Mrs. Charles E. Smith and Mrs. Donald Herring. Mrs. Clyde S. Runion will head the primary department, assisted by Mrs. Harry V. Kessecker, Miss Jo Ann Eaton, Miss Sally Gay Runion, Mrs. Richard S. Kincaid Sr. will head the beginner department, with Mrs. John W. Knowlton, Mrs. Joseph K. Trenton and Mrs. Calvin Davis as teachers.

Mrs. Mary Hannah Kolb will be in charge of supplies, Mrs. Gay Clark, transportation, and Mrs. Keefe, secretary. Refreshments will be served the nursery, beginners and primaries each day by Mrs. Sherman Keel and Mrs. Maria Trenton.
